

ANALISYS

It is my conclusion that, based on the regularity of distinctive click sounds preceding each break in the continuity of the phone conversation, that the recording I reviewed is an edited copy of an original and not the original itself. In addition, Mr. Cosby is heard @ 1:49 min. "Do you, do you have a beeping going on, on your phone?" To which no beeps are audible during the conversation. In the next conversation starting @6:24 min. with an individual by the name of Pete, there are multiple beeps heard throughout the recording. Noise sampling from the Cosby conversation and Pete conversation are identical, indicating the same type or identical device was used in both recordings.
